The syrations of the Louisville Journal on the slavery question are highly amusing to sil parties in this latitude. Slavery has become as great an evil as it was a blessing some time ago. It is as important now that few years ago that he should be protected in people didn't want African slavery. Indeed, gif: for Christmas. slavery is as bad now as the Pope or the Catholic Church was only nine or ten years ago. The Journal is deeply concerned about the slaveholder; about the men up lu the blue gense region who own slaves. It wishes to relieve them from an impending calamity. They have lost many of their claves, and are likely to lose more; uncertain of retaining any. So emencipate them all, and then start under a different system for the negro. He is as much of e genine as the man who broke no his chineware in order to show how well he cou'd put the picess together with Spaniding's

As an evidence of progress in the new fulth, we notice that the editor of the Journal has got a glimpse of the designs of Providence-Saul among the propheti!

The negroes of Kentneky ere to be colonized Africa. We had thought that all searible nen had seen the folly of any experiment to remove the colored population from this not so much concerned for the slaveowner generally. We know of no men better able to iske care of themselves than they are. They have been grossly wronged, but they can shift & Co. for themselves. If they want to set their regross free, it is their business. Let them pro vide for their support, so that they will not be a turden on other people's hands, nor in other people's way, and that is all that can be asked Let the Journal and its party let these slaveholders and their property slone, and they will flod no d fliculty.

As to the blessings of free neggo labor, we ropose to the Journal to test the matter. Let question to any county. Inclans wants labor: the more of it the better. Now, will thay take the free laborers of African descent from this State, say one thousand to a county, men, women and ebildrer ? Our neighbors have tried free negro labor. They have had a cettlement here and there of this class of population, and understand it bet ter than we do. If the editor will not do that, let him a k any of the counties of Kentucky where there are few or no slaves how many free argross they will take from the bine-grass

The editor of the Journal knows perfectly well what the respones to a suggestion of this sort would be from any county in this State or cleewhere. Ye' he ecribbles a way about the d'fliculties on hand, and ther, after the most approv d fachlon of a party fanatic, tender his party sarsaparilla as a remedy.

The editor of the Journal exhorts the Legis sture to follow its scipine counsel, and then gives a colemn warning about what the nex. Legislature will do. We have often heard these pretentions, portentions and minatory

When this Legisleture wes elected this subc; was not before the Sizie. The present nembers are not authorized to act on the subject at all. We have had enough of this haste, this forestalling of public opinion. We have had men elected for one purpose who proceeded to do another. We owe the present rebellion to this violation of just republican

We trust the people of this State will not be bullied lute action on such a subject. The institution of slavery in this State as it is, is the best for the white man, and iscomparably best for the negro. Emancipation would only damage the one temporarily, but it would inflict infinite ansiering upon the latter. It would be a crime with no reasonable excuse.

We know it is of no use to arge such a con-elderation upon a real Abolitonist or a partiann. The fermer is on this subject a confirmed idio!; the letter is as blind as a Mammoth Cave fish to all considerations, except what party permits to shine upon his perverted

The mass of this State have not yet taken of the Journal as to what they will do are no worth pointing. The Pope and the Catholic Church would both have gone up or gone down long since if the premonitions of the Journal had been heeded; and as to slavery, as ong as the African race exists in large numpers in the South, the Journal & Co. can only prevent slavery in some shape, when they can make the Oblo river run up hill.

Confedencey in ganeral, has discovered that the rebellion is a despotiem. He has been a long while finding it cut, and very dull not to foresee it at the start. To wield the whole power of a country to the last extremity requires a despotism. Nations have failed to maintain free inatitations because they would have war.

Republicanism and standing armies do not of Revenue's the fail of start in the casemy will not make desporate effort to gain possession of Revenue's the fail of start in the casemy will not make desporate effort to gain possession of Revenue's the fail of start in the casemy will not make desporate effort to gain possession of Revenue's the fail of start in the casemy will not make desporate effort to gain possession of Revenue's the fail of start in the casemy will not make desporate effort to gain possession of Revenue's the fail of start in the casemy will not the fail of start in the fail of start i live together. The more desperate the war, the less freedom there is.

The consertption in the South has been arbitrary and searching. Every home has been invaded by pressgangs. Both men and property have been taken to support the came. Strange that men so devoted to what they call independence must be forced to fight for it!

We doubt if it is consistent with free institut tions at all to compel men to fight who don't want to. Whilst this Union remained in harmony, it possessed an advantage that men will appreciate, perhaps, efter it is lost. It was so powerful it never could have needed a concertification or a draft to fight any enemy we could have. The Government had no need of could have been tankened the state, and are expected to arrive in Richmond —the haven of all reingerdom—ic—day or to—morrow. requiring part of a citipse's life to be devoted to military duties. We were too powerful to be disturbed by all the military we ever night need. We could maintain the doctrire that the fullitary should be subordinate to the civil. for the military could not be a formidable power.

But disunion caree on hand and all this we reversed. The military became predominent, and it follows no law but necessity. This has been more so in the South than here, for the power to resist was less, and the necessity to use it all greater.

Foote might have foreseen this, and cortainly he might have seen and felt it long cluee. But the fact is, Foote's defection does not count much. His impulses rus away with his judgment. He was an activa agent in Nashvills to hasten Tennessee out of the Connittees in place of Dr. Brewer.

A claim of $5 in Isvor of Jos. Smith, for show, was referred to Street Committee, Western District.

The report of the Journal of the previous assession was dispensed with.

J. H. Thomas, member elect of the Committee on Hospital, and cortainly he might have seen and felt it long cluee. But the fact is, Foote's defection does not count much. His impulses rus away with his judgment. Ho was an activa agent in Nashvills to hasten Tennessee out of the Culon. Nobody was more violent. He didn't count the cost; never did in his life. He has count the cos'; never did in his life. He has the courage to strike, but is as likely to strike in the wrong place and at the wrong time. He s well known, and his course will not of itself have much la finence.

It must be admitted, however, that Foote cas only been bold enough to speak out what thousands South feel and would speak if the opportunity offered. The despotiem comclaimed of, unfortunately, can prevent a hearing, and the pressure of armies only increases military power over States and people. Upon the whole, we give little weight to this move ment of Foote's. He will hardly meet with a second. A mejority will go to the last ditch. as long as corquest and anbjugation is threatvill enable all persons to keep the run of their ac eacd. A little wisdom in our rulers might make a change, but that is not to be found, Hown.—The road to happiness lies over smell stepping-stones. Slight circumstances are the stumbling-blocks of femilies. The prick of a pin, says the proverb, is enough to make an empire insipid. The tenderer the feelings, the more painful the wound. A cold, unkind word shocks and withers the blessom of the dearest love, as the most delicate rings of the vine are troubled by the faintest breeze. The misery of a life is born, of a chance observation. If the true history of quarrels, public and private, were honselly written, it would be silenced by an uprear of derision.

As this work is now concluded, the firing of our owa and the rebel batteries in Chericaton harbor and vicinity, which was suspended during its continuance, will probably be resumed, if it has not stready.

The Richmond Examiner notices the invention and its successful operation in the laboratory in that city of a machine capable of inning out 340,000 percussion caps in eight hours complete. Sherman in his march through Goorgia de-stroyed many things—dweilings, corn-cribs agricultural implements, giu-houses, clothing of women and children, and in short all thas tends to make life comfortable, was ruthlessly given to the funes. Cattle, hogs, horses, sheep and gests were destroyed. Nothing was spared but life. Thank Go?, amid the universal ruin, one thing was extrapried, root and branch, which smply compensates for all other loss. We mean the idea of reconstruction.

Wherever the hostile treat of Sherman's legions passed, all hopes and thoughts and desires of reconstruction were tramp of ent of existence. The logic of the bayonet and the rhetoric of the incendiary convinced the most "conservative" that nothing remained to the people of the South but triumph or degradation, which would make life intelerable. By the light of his harring dwalling, refice logically.

tion, which would make life intelerable. By the light of his burning dwelling, reflecting on the pale and flightened faces of his wife and children, the "conservative" saw the trae object of the war and the real prints at I sae. The flames which commed the labors of a lifetime, parified the political atmosphere, and kindled in the beart of the sufferer the fires of patriotism. There lives no man who can see his roof-tree burned, his lands devastated, his properly stelen and his wife and children turned pennites upon the world, without resolving on revenge.

But a greater wrong than those enumerated has been perpetrated by the hounds that follow the footsteps of Sherman. Women, pure and spotless, have been violated. The people and spotless, have been violated. The people of Georgia have had the bitterest cup of misery placed to their lips, and been made to drain it to the dregs. They have felt

The unutterable shame.
That Ingus the coward's heart to steel,
The aluggard's blood to fiame." The sluggard's blood to flame."

From the blacke red track which marks the route of Sherman there comes no cry for reconstruction and submission, but rather a shout, like the sound of many waters, for independence and revenge. And so, with a full appreciation of the ruin which has overtaken some of our worthlest and best, and with the warmest sympathies for their desolution, we cannot, in view of the purification of the State from all taint of reconstruction, help-clanisting, Thank Goe! We have experienced the baptizm of fire, and have come forth purified. Thank Goe!

Destination of the Expedition

[From the Commercial Advertiser, Dec. 19.]

(From the Commercial Advertiser, Dec. 19.)
On the 13th Inst., an expedition numbering on hundred and fifty vessels of all gradet—alxy-five of which are naval—left Hampion Roads destined South. This is the aixth day eince the feet salied, and we believe we chain not state anything not already communicated to the enemy by its presence, when we mention that Wilmington harbor is the supposed destination of the freet. The vessels doubtless arrived there on Friday last, and it was intended that operations should be immediately commenced. The plan of Almir, I Porter will probably be to effect first the reduction of Fort Fisher by bembardment. For this purpose the heavy frigures and those vessels of too great draft of water to permit their crossing the bir will lay off and shell at long rarge. As soon as the fire of the fort slackets so as to admit it, the remainder of the navalibect—the light-draft gunboats and monitors—will run in, pare that fort, and encounter the obstructiona in the river above. To sid in the reduction of Fort Fisher he will probably have recourse to quite a novel means of offense. It has been inly demonstrated by experiment that powder exploded close nuder e wall will almost as effectually demolish it by concussion as if the powder had been placed beneath the foundation of the wall. The naval and military efficers on this expedition have doubtless ere this had a brilliant demonstration of the eff et of pawder exploded under the walls of Fort Fisher, even at the loss of the old transport which conveyed it to its destination. The chatructions removed to the navigation of Cipe Fear river, the first can pass up to Wilmington and satist Gen. Butter in the capture of that place. The Herald has additional details of Sherman's grand march through Georgia, and some important particulars regarding his present position before Savanush, and the prospect for its early surrender. The city is poorly supplied with provisions, and is burdened with the feeding of a considerable surplus population of civilians besides its garrison of 30,000 or thereabouts.

As all sources of supplies are cut off by the Union forces, it will therefore be ultimately starved into submission, even if Hardee does not choose to give it up sooner.

New York, December 32,
The papers to-day contain no itema of importance, and very few if any specials.
The Herald in on editorial on the military situation says: The policy adopted by the rebels in reference to Gnorgh has resulted in charging the condition of the war from twe great armies on the rebel side to one. It looks upon Hood's ermy as virtually destroyed, and says Hardee's scattered forces can't be centered within Savannah and Wilmington. Sherman's army could be sent to Jemes river, resulting in the crunbing of Lee and the capture of Richmond. The writer considers the present aspect of effairs highly cheering, and certain to incore the speedy end of the Confederacy. It is thought there was an attack on the defences of Caper river commenced yearerday, assuming that all the vessels of the fleet participated. NEW YORK, December 33, be flest participated.

The Dispatch says a telegram was received yesterday from Livnebburs containing news from the raiders on the Virginia and East Tennessee railroad. On Saturday evening, having come to Max Meadows, ten miles this aide of Wythville, they turned back towards Abingdon, destroving as they went. As they was returning, Col. Withers sirned them at Akan's on Saturday avening, and fought them until sight. Akena is a point on the railroad, seven miles south of Marion. The result of Col. Withers' Aight are not given. It is believed that the enemy succeeded in destroying the machinery at the lead works. The report that the post was guarded by Gen. Vaughn is untrue.

It is also reported that the enemy destroyed the twenty-four hours ending at dusk last evening every bridge between Glade Spring and Max the river at the head of the falls had risen two feet which is equal to a rise of six feet at Portland From present appearances we are satisfied that From the celerity of his movements, it is doubted whether the enemy have any artillery; and some think for lack of this arm they have not and will not attack the selt works.

It was rumored on the streets yesterday that the Dutch Gap canal had been opened, and that vessels had passed through. There is no truth in the rumor.
